ACCSC Announces Strategic Alliance with Comcourse Learning Solutions To Offer Online Training

Arlington, VA – June 4, 2010 -- The Accrediting Commission of Career Schools and Colleges (ACCSC) is pleased to announce a strategic alliance with Comcourse Learning Solutions to provide expanded online training to the ACCSC community of schools.

This dynamic training portal, which will be launched at <http://www.accsonline.org> in July 2010, will provide both a diverse array of online training modules for schools on the Commission's standards and procedures, and advanced training for volunteer on-site evaluators. ACCSC believes this training portal provides a unique opportunity for interested parties to gain a better understanding of the ACCSC accreditation process, standards, and requirements.

"Comcourse has been a valued partner as we have pursued advanced training initiatives, and we are excited about the new opportunities this alliance affords our accredited schools," says Christopher Lambert, ACCSC's Director of External Affairs. "By partnering with Comcourse, ACCSC will expand its online training offerings, supporting our member schools' efforts to learn more about education best practices and institutional success."

"ACCSC upholds the highest standards for the delivery of online career education," says James Chellis, Chief Executive Officer of Comcourse. "This alliance will provide institutions with greatly expanded access to important and valuable ACCSC programs through an effective and convenient online delivery method."

This strategic alliance with Comcourse, along with the Commission's current professional development activities, are designed to further ensure that students attending an ACCSC-accredited institution receive a quality education and are well prepared to enter the workforce.
