Linking Arms with Industry to Improve Your Entire Campus

Learning Objectives:

Let's raise our collective approach as a sector by partnering with industry, with community, and with our graduates. Join the conversation with Jennifer Paugh-Macomber, Campus President at MIAT College of Technology, to explore the importance of industry partnerships for your school by discussing how to expand industry partnerships in your area, create a campus culture of employer, community, and graduate engagement, and strategies to increase interactivity with the industries your school supports. You'll hear directly from partners in industry who are actively engaged with a school to better understand what encourages their participation. Participants will walk away with a "toolbox" of ideas to implement at their own campus to expand their community and employer footprint.
